Trump administration scales back white-collar law enforcement

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

MUMBAI, APRIL 15

THE TRUMP administration is rolling back on the enforcement of certain types of white-collar crimes, including cases related to foreign bribery, public corruption, money laundering, and crypto markets. This move comes two months after US President Donald Trump signed an executive order directing the US Justice Department to halt prosecuting Americans accused of bribing foreign officials to secure overseas business deals.

According to a report by the Wall Street Journal, at the Justice Department, Attorney General Pam Bondi has ordered prosecutors to focus their anti-money-laundering and sanctions-evasion attention on drug cartels and international crime organisations. It says the administration is effectively redefining what constitutes a crime in some business conduct cases. These decisions aim to provide relief to US citizens but may also benefit companies and executives facing charges in US courts, such as key executives of the Adani Group, who are currently facing bribery charges.

Sources in the know said the new policy is likely to provide relief to Azure Power — which had a contract (a build, operate and transfer deal) with an Adani Group firm for a solar project — and, by extension, the Adani Group. "Lawyers for Indian billionaire Gautam Adani are asking the Justice Department to drop criminal charges tied to an alleged foreign-bribery scheme against him and other executives of his companies, according to people familiar with the matter. The Adani Group has called the allegations 'baseless'," the Wall Street Journal (WSJ) reported. US Federal prosecutors are taking note of Trump's dislike of the overseas-bribery law. "The newly installed US attorney for New Jersey, Alina Habba, formerly a Trump adviser and one of his defense lawyers, moved to dismiss charges against the former Cognizant executives accused of paying bribes in India," WSI said.

"Her decision undercut prosecutors in that office who had received approval in February—before she took over—to proceed to trial, according to an internal Justice Department memo reviewed by The Wall Street Journal," it said. FULL REPORT ON
