ICAI Panel may Wrap Up Review of IndusInd, Gensol Books in 6 Months

New Delhi: A key panel of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) could wrap up its review of the books of crisis-ridden Gensol Engineering and IndusInd Bank in about six months, the institute's president Charanjot Singh Nanda said on Wednesday.

While Gensol is facing allegations of fraud, the crisis at IndusInd Bank pertains to discrepancies in its forex derivative portfolio.

Usually, if the ICAI's Financial Reporting Review Board (FRRB) concludes that the financial statements of the entities that are being reviewed are "not true and fair", it refers the matters to the institute's disciplinary committee for subsequent action against the auditors concerned.

Nanda was announcing the Global Capability Centres summit series being hosted by the institute on June 2728 in NCR.

This summit will be organised in Ahmedabad, Mumbai and Hyderabad between August 2025 and February 2026. Nanda said ICAI, along with capital markets regulator Sebi and the National Stock Exchange, is working towards devising a framework to detect potential fraud or lapses in listed companies early.

As for the government move to facilitate the creation of large homegrown accounting and advisory firms comparable to the 'Big Four', Nanda said this could be realised through tie-ups of Indian firms with the global companies and through merger of some domestic firms.

He said as the country moves forward to create these larger entities, some regulatory support would be required

Currently, the Big Four—EY, Deloitte, KPMG, PwC—along with Grant Thornton and BDO dominate the Indian audit ecosystem.

"We have the talent pool and we are fully equipped to achieve this," he added. Earlier this month, the Prime Minister's Office held a crucial meeting on facilitating the creation of the domestic 'Big Four'.

Nanda said the institute has set up a group to promote India as a global accounting and finance hub for global capability centres (GCCs).

India currently hosts over 1,800 GCCs that collectively employ more than 1.9 million professionals and contribute over $64 billion a year to the global economy.

"This is not merely a success story of scale; it is a story of value, trust, and leadership," he said. — Our Bureau

LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD: N SRINIVASAN

Work remains worship for this turnaround veteran

NARAYANAN V Chennai, June 18

doesn't believe in firefighting. Yet, his leadership career spanning over three decades has been defined by just that. As managing director of Cholamandalam Investment and Finance Company (then Cholamandalam DBS Finance), Srinivasan was instrumental in steering the shadow lender back from the brink in the aftermath of the 2008 global financial crisis.

His call to exit the risky unsecured business, negotiate the withdrawal of joint venture partner DBS Bank, and execute a large-scale restructuring resulted in the dramatic turnaround of Chola Finance. A company once saddled with nearly ₹4,000 crore in non-performing assets transformed into a financial powerhouse managing over ₹1-lakh crore in assets — and, today, a crown jewel of the Murugappa Group.

The FE CFO Awards 2025 jury had no hesitation in declaring Srinivasan to be one of the top financial minds in India's corporate sector and selecting him for the Lifetime Achievement award.

Indeed, Srinivasan has been the Murugappa Group's go-to person for complex restructurings, tough negotiations, and high-stakes legal battles. Whether it's representing group firms in court or hammering out terms with global investors, Srinivasan's deep financial insights have made him indispensable. The behind-the-scenes negotiations with Japan's Mitsui Sumitomo to increase its stake in Cholamandalam MS General Insurance from 26% to 40% is one such example.

His business acumen and grasp of legal and regulatory frameworks even caught the attention of the government. In 2018, amid one of India's most high-profile financial collapses, Srinivasan was appointed an independent director in the newly reconstituted board of IL&FS — tasked with resolving its ₹1-lakh-crore debt crisis under the leadership of Uday Kotak.

But it was the turnaround of CG Power and Industrial Solutions that truly tested Srinivasan's resolve. He calls it the "most fying experience" of his career.

WHEN A MURUGAPPA Group firm acquired the troubled CG Power under the insolvency resolution process in November 2020, the company was under investigation by multiple agencies and its financial records were being scrutinised by courts for falsification. "I didn't even have a reliable balance sheet to understand the company's net worth or negotiate terms with investors," recalls Srinivasan, who was roped in as MD to turn around CG Power. He quickly assembled a team to reconstruct five years' worth of financial statements covering over 180 accounts.

The team completed the task within a record 8–9 months, against their own deadline of one-year. When the Murugappa Group took over, CG Power's market capitalisation was just ₹5,000 crore. In less than three years, it crossed ₹1-lakh crore while the company's profit also crossed ₹1,000 crore -- a recovery credited as one of the fastest turnaround stories in modern corporate India.

"My blood pressure really shot up those days. Every day, I would write this line to myself — 'Learn to manage stress without getting stressed'," Srinivasan recalls of his early days at CG Power. "Now, no matter what the problem is, I don't let it affect me. That's the biggest lesson CG Power taught me." It wasn't just self-assurance that helped him cope.

Srinivasan is a "meticulous walker." He never misses his hour-long morning walks, often accompanied by the soothing strains of Carnatic music by favourites like Maharajapuram Santhanam, devotional chants like the Narayaneeyam or Vishnu Sahasranamam by MS Subbulakshmi. He also hums along to the tunes of old Tamil melodies by TM Soundararajan.

A stickler for time management, Srinivasan begins his day at 3:45 am every day. While he works Monday through Saturday, he sets aside Sundays to quietly reflect and plan major strategies without interruption — reserving the afternoon for family outings to nearby temples or restaurants. "I used to play chess," he says with a wry smile. "But now, there's no one on the other side of the board." His two daughters are living in the US and Singapore.

For Srinivasan, work-life balance is more about the work than the balance. "If you set out to achieve big things, some amount of compromise in personal life may be required," he says. Yet, he doesn't see it as a sacrifice — he genuinely enjoys working, a value instilled by his father, who believed that "work is worship."

When monotony occasionally creeps in — which, he insists, is rare — Srinivasan finds comfort in the quiet hills of Kodaikanal, revisiting classic Roger Federer matches, or simply unwinding with music at home. "That itself will take care of everything," he says.

After a five-year stint in Mumbai to revive CG Power, Srinivasan is now moving to Hyderabad to steer Coromandel International as its Executive vice chairman. "I've been fortunate to hold an executive position at 67," he says.

His retirement plans are no less ambitious — from mentoring startups aiming for IPOs to studying the Vedas and Upanishads, and supporting underprivileged priests with financial aid, Srinivasan has already chalked out a meaningful next chapter. But that's still some distance away.

New Delhi eyes critical minerals

MUKESH JAGOTA New Delhi, June 18

THE RESUMPTION OF negotiations on the free trade agreement and efforts towards normalisation of ties between India and Canada provides New Delhi an opportunity to tap another source of critical minerals as it seeks to diversify its supply base.

The recent curbs by China on supplies of some key minerals like Rare Earth Magnets has added urgency to the task. As Prime Minister Narendra Modi met Canada's Prime Minister Mark Carney to reset the ties after more than 20 months of estrangement, the discussions were also held on opportunities for future collaboration in critical minerals.

"A trade pact could pave the way for structured cooperation in mineral exploration, joint ventures, and technology sharing, helping India build a more resilient and secure supply chain. This could be the beginning of enhanced energy cooperation, access to advanced technologies, and defence partnership between the two nations," economist at Deloitte India Rumki Majumdar said.

Canada has significant deposits of critical minerals. It is also a significant exporter of these minerals in the world with exports exceeding $50 billion in 2023.

The US remains its biggest market taking in almost 80% of the production. The recent US tariff measures - including those on critical minerals - have prompted Canada to seek new trade opportunities.

How CFOs can drive personal branding

THE ROLE OF a chief financial officer (CFO) has been redefined after evolving at an unprecedented pace. Chief executive officers (CEOs) and board members now expect CFOs to act as strategic leaders, with a forward-looking perspective on technological innovations, societal transformation, and environmental challenges. The modern CFO is called to move beyond traditional financial stewardship and embrace a broader mandate. In a world where macro forces are reshaping value creation, the CFO must become an exponential leader, driving innovation, resilience, and long-term impact.

Personal branding becomes a critical strategic asset for CFOs in this magnified leadership landscape. As they step beyond the confines of finance into broader enterprise leadership, a well-crafted personal brand can amplify their influence, attract to talent, and drive transformation. A strong personal brand positions the CFO as a trusted voice, solidifying credibility with boards, investors, employees, and external stakeholders. This visibility is essential for CFOs leading cross-functional change initiatives and fostering organisational alignment.

CFOs who establish themselves as thought leaders can attract high-performing talent. Theirbrand reflects the organisation's leadership philosophy and cultural aspirations that resonate with the modern workforce.

Authenticity and clarity in one's personal brand make it easier to lead innovation, champion digital transformation, and advocate sustainability. Moreover, personal branding can serve as a stepping stone for CFOs aspiring to the CEO role, strengthening their visibility and influence across all enterprise levels.

How CFOs can build a compelling personal brand

Clear, confident, and consistent communication: A compelling personal brand is not built easily. It is shaped, refined, and revealed through the stories CFOs choose to tell. It begins with clarity: a deep understanding of one's strategic strengths, financial acumen, and the impact one is determined to create. It is essential to have answers to questions such as "what do you stand for when no one's watching?" and "what do you want to be remembered for in rooms you have not yet entered"?

Strategic and intentional networking: Relationships are the currency of leadership. Networking grounded in authenticity and not an agenda builds trust that no great pitch ever could. From industry panels to meaningful one-on-one dialogues, these are the spaces where reputations are born and alliances are forged.

Authentic sense of self: At the heart of it all lies character. Leadership is nothing but having a set of values. Authenticity, humility, and emotional intelligence speak louder than business forecasts. A leader demonstrating integrity sends a message stronger than any strategy slide: leadership can be both smart and human.

Thought leadership: Thought leadership is no longer optional. It is a core responsibility. The CFO who contributes ideas helps shape the financial future of industries. Whether through bold articles, forward-looking blogs, or strategic commentary, thought leadership turns expertise into influence and foresight into credibility.

Being future-ready: The most powerful brands are forward-facing. A future-ready CFO does not merely adapt; they anticipate. By leaning into ESG, digital transformation, talent strategy, and AI, they become architects of change — leaders who do not just survive disruption but define what comes next.

Practising mindfulness: Mindfulness equips CFOs to manage their thoughts and emotions with clarity and composure. This enhances their ability to lead with empathy and influence those around them. In high-pressure environments, a mindful leader brings calm, focus, and presence to every decision.

In today's dynamic business landscape, personal branding is no longer optional for an exponential CFO. It is a key enabler of leadership, influence, and impact. CFOs have long been recognised for their ability to drive business performance. Now, it is time for them to be equally acknowledged for the strength of their personal brand, which is a potential differentiator between a good CFO and a genuinely great one.

NEW DELHI: The Union government is introducing a FASTagbased annual pass priced at ₹3,000, from August 15 for private non-commercial vehicles in a move to facilitate cheaper, congestion-free highway travel. This pass has to be renewed every year from the date of activation or after 200 trips—whichever comes first.

Officials said that every exit of toll stretches will be counted as one trip for all highways except controlled access expressways, for which the entire travel can be counted as one trip.

The announcement comes at a time when the government has rolled out a pilot for ANPR (automatic number plate recognition) -based barrier-free tolling systems in select stretches, and a satellite-based highway toll collection system is in the works.

According to official studies commissioned by the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI), adoption of the FASTag system has reduced the average waiting time at toll plazas from 12 minutes 14 seconds to 47 seconds for the financial year 2022-23.

For this annual pass, union minister for road transport and highways Nitin Gadkari said a dedicated link for activation and renewal will soon be made available on the Rajmarg Yatra App as well as on the official websites of NHAI and MoRTH.

He said the policy addresses long-standing concerns regarding toll plazas located within a 60 km range and simplifies toll payments through a single. affordable transaction. By reducing wait times, easing congestion, and minimisng disputes at toll plazas, it will benenfit millions of private vehicle owners. Officials said this will not dampen the revenue streams through toll collection as at least 75% of toll revenue is collected from commercial vehicles.

Kushal Kumar Singh, partner, Deloitte India, said this initiative empowers private vehicle owners with predictable toll costs, reduced congestion, and seamless mobility. "It directly addresses long-standing issues like toll plaza overlaps, fostering smoother journeys across National Highways."

Empowering India with AI

As demand for AI infrastructure grows, India offers cost advantages, a renewable energy focus and a strategic location for development of data centres. However, its emergence as a global AI data centre hub depends on bridging gaps in AI infrastructure, talent availability and policy framework, as per Deloitte India's report.

he country could require an additional 45 to 50 million square feet of real estate space and 40 to 45 terawatt hours incremental power by 2030 to meet the growing demand for AI, according to Deloitte India's latest report titled 'Attracting AI Data Centre Infrastructure Investment in India'.

The report suggested targeted policy interventions would be critical in positioning India as a global AI hub. The report identifies six key pillars for India to reach its potential in building a worldleading, Al-ready ecosystem. These pillars are real estate, power utilities, infrastructure, connectivity, network infrastructure, talent and pol-
