I knew I was born to be a performer: Nora Fatehi

For me, dance is an emotion, a language of expression, and honestly, it's my soul on stage

Onkar Kulkarni

For Nora Fatehi, International Dance Day is more than just a celebration – it's a tribute to the journey that shaped her. She began her career in the entertainment industry as a background dancer, but over the years, she has evolved into a dynamic performer on stage, who is now also dabbling in singing and acting. Known for setting the screen on fire with hits like Dilbar, O Saki Saki, and Naach Meri Rani, Nora reflects on how dance has been a constant force in her life, shaping her from a young dreamer into the performer she is today.

'INTERNATIONAL DANCE DAY IS A REMINDER OF HOW DEEPLY DANCE CONNECTS US'

Given that her career revolves around dance, it's no surprise that Nora feels excited to see the world take a moment to celebrate the art form. She says, "For me, dance is an emotion, a language of expression, and honestly, it's my soul on stage. International Dance Day is a reminder of how deeply dance connects us – no matter where we're from, what language we speak or what style we move in."

'I DIDN'T GROW UP IN AN ENVIRONMENT WHERE DANCE WAS ENCOURAGED AS A CAREER'

Reflecting on how it all began, Nora shares how she was drawn to this art form since an early age. "I've always said dance wasn't just something that I liked, it was in me. As a little girl, I would watch music videos on TV and be mesmerised by how people could express so much without even saying a word. That was the spark. I didn't grow up in an environment where dance was encouraged as a career, but I knew, deep down, that I was born to perform. The energy, the freedom, the storytelling... it just called out to me. I knew this was my path when I saw the crowd's reaction the first time I performed in front of an audience. The connection was magic. I didn't just want to be a part of the

Nora's dream dance collabs

If you could team up with a Bollywood actor for a dance film, who would it be?

It would have to be Hrithik Roshan – his energy, precision and effortless style would be a dream to match on screen.

If you had the chance to have a dance-off with a Bollywood actress, who would you choose?

Madhuri Dixit ma'am, as she brings such grace and intensity to her performances. It would be an electrifying clash of styles – her elegance and my fire would be an incredible experience. I think the audience would love it.

ergy performances in hits like Kuku Kuku and Kamariya, she admits that classical Indian dance forms challenge her like no other: "The precision, the grace, the deep cultural history – it demands so much discipline and respect. I'm still learning and never want to stop. Other dance forms like urban fusion, Afro styles, belly dance and hip hop are like speaking a native language – fluid, instinctive, raw," explains Nora.

'ENTERING THIS HUGE, VIBRANT WORLD OF BOLLYWOOD WAS A DREAM'

Nora made Mumbai her home a decade ago and she's worked across film industries in India. Recalling the moment she truly felt embraced, she says, "Coming from Toronto and entering this huge, vibrant world of Bollywood was a dream. I felt the acceptance and love from the Indian audience after Dilbar (Satyameva Jayate). People embraced not just the song, but me – my style, energy and persona."

'I'M STILL LEARNING AND NEVER WANT TO STOP'

Cinema International Dance Day:
B'wood dance through the ages

International Dance Day: The Bollywood Edition

No way is this an exhaustive list, but here are some of the most pivotal moments in Bollywood history that defined the way the nation danced

Kabir Singh Bhandari

HELEN: Item numbers are a dime a dozen nowadays, all looking the same. But that wasn't the case when Helen was in her prime. Aged 19 years old when she got her first big break in Hawrah Bridge (1958), performing the song Mera Naam Chin Chin Chu, before which she was a group dancer in different films. Post that, she was flooded with offers in the 60s and 70s, and the hit performances which she gave are too many to list, but Piya Tu Ab To Aja from Caravan (1971) definitely stands out, considered as 'the' cabaret item number.

MITHUN: With Disco Dancer (1982), Mithun Chakraborty gave a hit whose popularity extended overseas, especially in the Soviet Union. Unlike Big B's Angry Young Man, Jimmy taught the villains of the film with his dance moves, leading to several other disco films in the 80s.

MADHURI: With the dance number Ek Do Teen in the action drama Tezaab (1988), Madhuri Dixit became a sensation overnight. With lyrics by Javed Akhtar, the girl playfully asks her lover to return before the month gets over. Add to that choreography by Saroj Khan and Madhuri's skills, and we had a chartbuster.

GOVINDA: He burst onto the Bollywood dance scene with his debut Love 86 (1986). His dance style was difficult to match, as with time he matched it with a playful style that became his signature. And who can forget him dancing to Pak Chik Pak in Raja Babu (1994) wearing a Michael Jackson inspired black jacket.

JAAVED: India was introduced to Jaaved Jaaferi's superb dancing skills with Meri Jung (1985), where he simultaneously played a villain. He showcased his skills in several other movies, like the forgotten Rock Dancer (1995) and gave us Boogie Woogie, the best Indian dance competition television series ever.

KARISMA: Dil Toh Pagal Hai (1997) put three energetic dancers together: Shah Rukh Khan, Madhuri Dixit and Karisma Kapoor. While Madhuri and Karisma's dance off is spoken about, Karisma had given a number of fun dance performances in the 90s. What Is Mobile Number and Main Toh Raste Se Ja Raha Tha, both with Govinda, seem to be the most popular ones.

HRITHIK: The year was 2000. And Hrithik gave us probably Bollywood's most impressive dance in Ek Pal Ka Jeena from Kaho Na Pyaar Hai. But wait a minute, how can we forget Prabhudeva in Mukhabla from Kadhalan (1994), going invisible at the end of the dance?
